

TELL ME A STORY

Celebrating Children's Literacy During April Vacation Week

ASL Interpreted Programs

- Charlie Numbers and the Man in the Moon Read-Aloud

Wednesday April 18, 2018 at 12:00 pm and 1:00 pm

Listen to husband and wife author team, Ben and Tonya Mezrich, read an excerpt from their children's book, Charlie Numbers and the Man in the Moon. Charlie is recruited to use his mathematical prowess to discover what happened to a box of stolen moon rocks in this follow up to Bringing Down the Mouse. Then, participate in a STEM activity based on the book.

- Critter Day: Animal Adoption Stories

Saturday April 21, 2018 at 10:30 am and 11:30 am

Celebrate children's literacy with friends furry to scaly. Join Matt from Animal World Experience for Adoption Stories. Learn where he found the members of his animal family and find out what it takes to care for them all.

These programs are free with paid Museum admission.
